Employment Rates of Polytechnic Graduates Remain High in 2023

9 in 10 employed within six months post-graduation

Singapore, 12 January 2024 – The 2023 Polytechnic Graduate Employment Survey (GES)¹ found that 92.7% of polytechnic graduates in the labour force were employed within six months of graduation or after completion of full-time National Service, comparable to the 91.8% in 2022 (see Table 1). The median gross monthly salary among graduates in full-time permanent employment increased from $2,600 in 2022 to $2,800 in 2023.

Among the 5,914 polytechnic graduate survey respondents in the labour force, 59.8% were in full-time permanent employment, 28.0% were in part-time/temporary employment, and 3.1% had either accepted a job offer or were actively starting a business venture. Consistent with previous years, majority of the polytechnic graduates in part-time/temporary employment did so voluntarily, with about half of them concurrently pursuing or preparing to begin further studies.

Note: The percentages may not add up due to rounding off. The list of definitions for the employment indicators is at Annex A.

¹ The GES is jointly conducted by Nanyang Polytechnic, Ngee Ann Polytechnic, Republic Polytechnic, Singapore Polytechnic and Temasek Polytechnic.

Across all course clusters, the median gross monthly salaries of graduates continue to increase compared to the previous years' graduating class. The median gross monthly salary of graduates from Engineering, Health Sciences, Humanities & Social Sciences and Information & Digital Technologies were comparable or higher than the overall median for all graduates. (see Table 2).

Fresh Graduates

8,065 out of 10,757 fresh graduates in 2023 responded to the survey. As of 1 October 2023, around six months after graduation, 50.4% of the respondents were in the labour force. 49.0% were pursuing or preparing to begin further studies and hence were not actively looking for jobs. Most of the remaining 0.7% of the respondents said that they were taking a break and were not seeking employment.

Post-National Service Graduates

5,055 out of 8,739 graduates from 2020 who completed their full-time National Service (NS) between 1 April 2022 and 31 March 2023 responded to the survey. 36.6% of respondents were in the labour force. 63.1% were pursuing or preparing to begin further studies, and hence were not actively looking for jobs. Similar to the fresh graduates, most of the remaining 0.3% of the respondents said they were taking a break and not seeking employment.

Nurturing Future Talent for the Industry

To support their graduates, the polytechnics offer regular career guidance and support, including job matching and personalised career coaching and planning. Tapping on their strong industry networks, the five polytechnics also organise regular career fairs to curate suitable job placement and apprenticeship opportunities, including the SkillsFuture Work-Study Programme.

Speaking on behalf of the Polytechnic GES Committee on the outcome of the survey findings, Ms Jeanne Liew, Principal & CEO, Republic Polytechnic said, “The confidence shown by employers in our polytechnic graduates is evident in the wage growth and stable employment rates. Our robust industry ties and progressive curriculum have nurtured graduates who are adaptable and resilient. Through ongoing collaboration with stakeholders, we remain committed to preparing graduates for the dynamic job market.”

DEFINITION OF EMPLOYMENT INDICATORS

Employment refers to graduates working in full-time permanent, part-time, temporary employment and freelancing. The employment rate is the number of employed graduates, as a proportion of graduates in the labour force (i.e. those who were working or not working but actively looking and available for work).

Full-time Permanent Employment refers to employment of at least 35 hours a week and where the employment is not temporary. It includes those on contracts of one year or more.

Freelancing refers to those who operate their own business without employing any paid worker in the conduct of their business or trade.

Part-time Employment refers to employment of less than 35 hours a week.

Temporary Employment refers to casual, interim or seasonal employment, including those on contracts of less than one year.

Involuntary part-time/temporary employment refers to those who indicated that they were in part-time/temporary employment after they were unable to obtain a full-time permanent job offer.

Voluntary part-time/temporary employment refers to those who indicated that they were in part-time/temporary employment as they were pursuing/ preparing to commence further studies or taking active steps to start a business venture, due to personal choice and other reasons.

Gross Monthly Salary comprises basic salary, fixed allowances, overtime pay, commissions and other regular cash payments, before deduction of the employee's CPF contributions and personal income tax. Employer's CPF contributions, bonuses, stock options, other lump sum payments and payments-in-kind are excluded.
